The present delay was entirely owing to old differences between President Johnson and Congress.

The Indiana Legislature—The XVth Amendment Ratified.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

INDIANAPOLIS, May 14.—The House of Representatives this afternoon, before calling the roll to ascertain whether a quorum was present or not, concurred in the Senate amendments to the specific appropriation bill by a viva voce vote. A message came from Governor notifying House of the resignation of forty-two of the members. Mr. Osborn, Republican, then moved to adopt the joint resolution ratifying the constitutional Amendment. Mr. Coffroth, Democrat, objected, making the point of order that there was not a quorum present. The Chair ruled that this question could be considered. An appeal was taken by Mr. Coffroth, but the decision of the Speaker was sustained, and the House passed the joint resolution by a vote of 51 ayes, nays none. Two Democrats and one Republican present refused to vote. Nothing was done in the Senate to-day, no quorum being present.

The Cuban Insurrection.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, May 14.—The usual accounts of engagements between the Spaniards and Cubans have been received, all of which are magnified and arranged to suit both parties. Charges of atrocities, assassinations and crimes are made by the journals and by private letters. Altogether the war news so far received is unreliable, and the fighting, according to impartial correspondents, is insignificant.

The Sugar market is animated but prices are unchanged.

NEW YORK CITY.

Iron Thieves Shot—Brooklyn Equal Rights' Association—Anniversary of the Universal Peace Society—The Sensation Cuban Filibuster Reports—Suit Against Pennsylvania Railroad.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK May 14.—Early yesterday morning Deputy Sheriff Van Bruhl and a private watchman detected three thieves stealing iron from the Morris & Essex Railroad dock, in Hoboken, and fired four shots at them. One of the thieves was seen to fall into the water and sink. The others escaped, but shortly returned, probably to look for their companion. They were fired upon again, when one was heard to exclaim, "I am shot." They again escaped.

The Equal Rights Association met at the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, at half-past ten o'clock this morning. About two hundred persons, mostly ladies, were present. Mrs. Anna C. Field presided. After the appointment of a committee to prepare resolutions, Mrs. Stanton addressed the meeting. The ten minute rule for speeches was adopted, and considerable discussion ensued as to whether this was an adjourned meeting of the New York Convention or a meeting to organize a Brooklyn Association. It was finally declared by the Recording Secretary of the New York Convention that that body finally adjourned last night, and this was a Brooklyn meeting. Mrs. Lucy Stone, George William Curtis and others addressed the meeting, and finally a recess till the afternoon was taken.

At the afternoon session Mrs. Celia Burleigh, President of the Brooklyn Equal Rights Association, presided and read an address on Woman's Rights. A series of resolutions, expressive of the sense of the meeting, was read and speeches were made by Mrs. Livermore and others. Resolutions were adopted and the meeting adjourned till evening.

The third anniversary of the Universal Peace Society was held at Dodsworth's Hall this morning. The attendance was small, less than one hundred persons being present. Alfred H. Love, of Philadelphia, presided, with Miss Julia Crouch, of Mystic, Conn., and Professor J. K. H. Wilcox, of Washington, D. C., as Secretaries. Among those present were Cora Hatch and Henry C. Wright. Miss Crouch read the third annual report, and also read reports from several branch Societies.

A resolution was offered by Giles B. Stebbens, setting forth that in the British possessions there has been protection and justice equal and impartial to white men and Indians, while on our side of the lines there are miserably executed laws and hatred of race, which have led to bloody massacres; therefore this contrast should lead our Government and people to justice, exact and impartial, and peace, as the result between white men and Indians.

Series of resolutions in the interest of peace and denunciatory of war, thanking the President for his offers to Quakers to take charge of Indians, &c., were read by the President. A long discussion ensued in regard to the proper method of carrying on the work for the settlement of the Alabama claims, war with Spain, England, France, &c. After the appointment of a finance committee, a recess till afternoon was taken.

The French steam frigate Semiramis, fifteen days from St. Thomas, arrived here to-day, having on board Rear Admiral B. Meguel, commanding French West India Squadron

United States Marshal Barlow expresses the opinion that no regular organized, armed and equipped expedition has sailed from this port for Cuba since the commencement of Cuban troubles. He believes that many men since the commencement of the insurrection have taken passage from this port for Cuba, perhaps to assist the rebels, and much war material has also been shipped to the island, but the men all went ostensibly as passengers and the war material ostensibly as freight, regularly consigned; that most of the men went singly or in small parties, and the war material was sent in small quantities by various vessels, and that this is all of the truth there is in the sensation reports about Cuban expeditions.

An accident occurred at Jamaica at seven o'clock this morning, on the Long Island Railroad, said to have been caused the overturning of a rail. Fortunately no person was injured.

A case is on trial in the Supreme Court Circuit of this city, of Cyrus H. McCormick, of Chicago, against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, to recover $12,000 for baggage, including jewelry, burned in a warehouse at Pittsburgh in 1862.

The meeting intented as a reception to Warren and Costello, released Fenians, took place this evening at the Cooper Institute. Warren and Costello did not attend, for the reason that they considered the demonstration as partaking of a partisan character. Anthony A. Griffin, of the Savage wing of the Fenian Brotherhood, presided, and speeches were made by Colonel Nagle and others.

At the evening session of the Universal Peace Society not more than thirty persons were present The proceedings were utterly devoid of interest or importance.

Some boys who threw stones at the sloop Sarah B. Watson as she was leaving her dock this evening, were fired at by a negro named David Eaton, on board, and two of them, Mathew Louis Hoy and Roger Flynn, were seriously wounded. Eaton was arrested.

Protection of River Marine from Fire and Piracy.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, May 14.—A movement is on foot here to protect the river marine from fire and river piracy. The plan is to procure an iron clad tug, with sufficient power to tow from the levee the largest steamers in case of fire, and to have a powerful steam fire engine on board ready for use at a moment's notice. The tug is to ply up and down the harbor day and night, and to have locomotive head lights at the bow, stern and midships, so arranged that they will illuminate almost the entire harbor or can be darkened at will. The insurance and marine interests will probably furnish the tug and the police authorities man her. It is also proposed to license and register all skiffs and small boats plying in the harbor, as a preventive of river piracy, which is carried on pretty extensively.

Dispatches from Admiral Hoff, of the Gulf Squadron—Suspicious Vessel—A Conservative Delegation from Virginia—Examining Surgeons Appointed—Virginia Election Fixed for July 6th—Gen. Sickles Appointed Minister to Spain.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 14, 1869.

DISPATCHES FROM GULF SQUADRON.

Admiral Hoff writes to the Department from Havana, 6th inst., announcing that he would be absent from that port for a few days to relieve the Narragansett at Key West, and for a change of air for the officers and crew. He had just received information from Commander Fillebrown, at Key West, that the English steamer Salvador, a supposed Cuban privateer that our naval forces have been watching for some time at the instance of the Government, has cleared for St. Thomas via Nassau without arms or munitions of war of any description. Everything at Havana is remarkably quiet. The Spanish authorities seem confident of suppressing the rebellion before the expiration of the year. The rainy season now coming on precludes the possibility of any active operations of any importance. In conversation with Cubans who were at one time sanguine of success. Admiral Hoff says those in the Havana end of the Island are dissatisfied from the fact that the revolution has not been conducted in a manner to coincide with their views. There is little or no organization among them, although they claim the cause of their present inactivity is owing to their forces being exercised and instructed in the use of arms, preparatory for a campaign at the close of the rainy season. Gen. Cespedes and Quesada are acting independently, and have their own separate forces and adherents.

Mr. Hall, our Consul General, and the Commodore of the English fleet, seem to think the insurrection is being crushed, and that in a few weeks it will consist of nothing but irregular bands of outlaws scattered through the interior.

SUSPICIOUS VESSEL.

A letter from a Treasury officer at Beaufort, South Carolina, states the schooner Grapeshot, bound from New York for Falmouth, Jamaica, put in there for repairs on the 27th of April. As she was ladened with arms and munitions of war, and had thirty six passengers, the Collector at Beaufort telegraphed to Collector Grinnell, at New York, and received a reply that the Grapeshot was regularly cleared for Falmouth. Consequently she was not detained. A few days after this a new Collector was appointed at Beaufort, and he was urged by Capt. Usher, of the revenue service, to investigate the matter. He replied it had been thoroughly inquired into by his predecessor, and therefore declined to act in the case. On the 12th of May the Grapeshot still lay in the harbor of Beaufort.

VIRGINIA APPOINTMENTS.

General Canby has made the following State appointments in Virginia: O. M. Dorman, Judge Supreme Court of Appeals, vice R. C. Moncieur, removed; John M. A delegation of prominent citizens of Virginia, representing the Conservative interest of that State, and accompanied by L. D. Washington, waited on the President this morning and had a short interview in regard to the adoption of the State Constitution, and especially to ask that the clause relating to county officers be submitted to the people separately in the same way as the test oath and disability clauses. The delegation were Hon. John R. Edmunds, Colonel Frank G. Ruffin, James A. Cowardin, editor of the Richmond Dispatch, and Franklin Stearns.

Tennessee—N. Lytle, Cambridge; Frederick K. Bailey, Knoxville; John Blankenship, Maysville. Missouri—D. W. Day and R. T. Langrell, Eau Clair. Michigan—William T. Daughan, Niles. Illinois—Israel J. Guth, Peoria.

THE VIRGINIA STAY LAW.

It is stated that Gen. Stoneman, recently commanding in Virginia, believing that by the 1st of July the State might be organized, continued the stay law only until that time, but it is very probable that applications will be made to General Canby to continue the same law in force until after the meeting of a Legislature.

THE VIRGINIA ELECTION.

A proclamation has been prepared and will be issued to-morrow fixing the 6th day of July for the election in Virginia. It also provides for the submission of the Constitution, with separate votes on disabilities and test oath clauses, but no others.

VESSELS WATCHED.

A number of vessels at different ports, suspected of being in the Cuban interest, are closely watched by our revenue cutters and naval force. Assurance has been given that our Government will enforce the neutrality laws.

LUTHERAN CONVENTION.

The general convention of the Lutheran Church, now in session, will to-morrow morning, by appointment, pay their respects to President Grant,

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

FALL OF A DISTILLERY.

Loss of Life—Thrilling and Terrible Incident.

Yesterday afternoon at half past two o'clock, the citizens of the Southern side of the Monongahela river were startled by the noise of a loud crash as of a falling building. The sound was heard on this side of the river, and our reporter immediately visited the locality. He found the distillery bonded warehouse of Messrs. Joseph F. Finch & Co, in fragmentary ruins. It will be remembered, that, several weeks ago, this building gave away, and, pursuant to Government instructions, the whisky stored therein was ordered to be at once removed to other quarters. The work of removing was at once undertaken, and yesterday carpenters of experience were engaged in strengthening the building so as to render secure the removal of the thousands upon thousands of barrels of whisky, which were stored away beneath the roof of the ill-fated bonded-warehouse. Unfortunately, braces with an outward tendency were placed against the walls, and as a natural result, the complete demolition of the building was accomplished. When heavy blows from a sledge hammer were being delivered to an upright dependent for support on already impaired side walls, the building quivered and shook and soon gave way letting down its contents to the ground. The giving away was sudden and unexpected. It was as quick as a lightning flash, and fell terribly certain on the heads of those beneath. The carpenter, David Steel who was driving home a spike to ensure security, John Robinson who was watching the operation, and George B. Caven, the storekeeper, in conversation with a friend, were wholly innocent of the dread calamity about to befall them. Quick as thought down came the building. Outward rushed Caven's partner through a window, and his friend and the carpenter's hands were caught in the falling debris. A cloud of dust followed and moanings issued. Mr. David Steele, a carpenter, was readily exhumed from the masses of brick, stone and timber, and found to be dangerously injured. Mr. John Robinson, the Manager of the distillery, was next reached and with but little trouble extricated from his terrible position. Mr. Caven, the United States Storekeeper, was the only one missing of all the souls known to have been within the building. Search was delayed for some time till T. W. Davis, Esq., the humane and wholesouled Collector of the District, arrived, and gave orders to find the body. Search soon revealed the fact that Mr. Caven was wedged in by heavy timbers in the ruins, and that he could not be reached for hours. Mr. Davis employed a special corps of United States officers and ordered the work of a removal of the debris to proceed, in order to extricate the unfortunate man from his position. There were found many willing laborers, who, in the greatest of danger, proceeded to extricate Mr. Caven from his awful position, but the work went slowly on, and ere the poor man was reached life was departed.

AN AWFUL PICTURE.

When the building dropped, Mr. Caven was conversing with a friend on the first floor. On the signal of a crash the friend leaped out of a window or door, which he could not say, and his companion was imbedded in the falling debris. Down, down, down he was borne into the lowest depth of the building. There he awoke to a consciousness of his position. Above, hanging as it were by a single thread, were an hundred tons or more of barreled whisky and debris, below two feet of whiskey floating and minutely gaining in heighth. What an awful position! For an hour or more he was left to his own thoughts. No one dared enter the bonded warehouse. The great danger and the Governmental regulations forbade trespass on the sacred precincts of a bonded warehouse, although all of the few hundreds gathered thereat knew of poor Caven's danger. Not till Collector Davis arrived did one dare to raise an arm to free their fellow being from the danger so imminent. The word was given, and scores of honest hearts and hardy hands set to work to relieve the poor creature locked up in the jaws of death. Barrel after barrel was removed, and nearer and nearer they came to the pinioned victim, till at last his voice could be heard. Awful, terrible! "Come boys, let out this sea of whiskey or I drown," was the first expression of the firmly held prisoner.

A hole was dug through the foundation, and the whiskey poured forth in torrents. Then cried the prisoner, "Alas! must I die here." The few who heard the words said "no," and set themselves vigoronsly to work to accomplish his delivery. Barrel after barrel was removed, timber after timber was drawn aside, but the victim could not be reached. Dr. Roberts, of South Pittsburgh, a physician as brave as accomplished, descended into the abode of death, and taking the poor fellow by the hand and asked if he had any final words to say, as death seemed imminent. "Yes," said Caven, "I die happy. Give all I own to my dear mother, but oh, Doctor can't I be saved?" The kind and stout hearted Doctor assured him there was hope, but bade him prepare to meet his God. Subsequently the good Doctor visited him and inspired hope within his bosom, but the poor fellow responded only in tears and ejaculations of sorrow that he was dying in full health and vigor. Minutes and hours rolled away and still the work went on to relieve the unfortunate man, but to no avail. Above his head hanged more than one hundred tons of weight ready to fall on the turn of a hair. Beneath him and up to his neck was whisky emitting gases strong enough to intoxicate those most used to the vapors. How terrible! How awful! An ocean of spirits about him, a mountain of debris above! Gradually the voice of the poor fellow grew weaker and weaker, "God" and "mother," were the last words heard from his lips, and up through hundreds of tons of ruins ascended the soul of one who had lived in his Maker's ways and walked in the path of the righteous. He died while ready hands and willing hearts were working diligently to extricate him from his terrible position. At half past seven o'clock, Dr. Roberts descended to the dark cave of death, and wading through the deep sea of whiskey, found the victim. No response was made to his greeting, and feeling the pulse, life was found gone. With sad hearts the workmen ceased their labors and Caven was left all alone in his dark sepulchre.

The deceased belonged to McKeesport, where live an aged father, a kind mother and affectionate brothers and sisters, He was about twenty-six years of age and had but recently received his appointment as Storekeeper under the new administration. It was decided by Collector Davis to remove him to another distillery and the remonstrances of his friends were being entered at the very moment when he was carried down beneath the ruins. His body will be taken from the debris to-day, and removed to McKeesport for burial.

Mr. Robinson, the manager of the distillery, was seriously injured, but it is thought he will survive. He was carried to the residence of Mr. Finch, on Second avenue, where he received all proper medical aid and attendance.

Mr. Steele, the carpenter, was seriously injured, having all his left ribs crushed. He will possibly recover.

The loss entailed by Mr. Finch will closely approximate $40,000. This is divided by a number of local liquor houses which had whiskies stored at their own risk, and of course will have to share in the damages.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—"Humpty Dumpty" was last evening again presented to a large audience. The matinee this afternoon will afford an excellent opportunity for ladies who have not previously witnessed the entertainment to do so. "Humpty Dumpty" is on the bills for to-night, and we learn will be continued through the coming week.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The "Forty Thieves" continue to draw large numbers of ladies, gentlemen and children to the Pittsburgh Theatre. The scenery and stage paraphernalia are grand in the extreme, and the grand transformation scene is transcendently beautiful. The piece will be presented at matinee this afternoon and also this evening.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Our readers will remember Ole Bull's grand musical concerts on the 18th and 19th insts., at the Academy of Music.

MATINEE AT THE ACADEMY.—The beautiful drama, the "Renegade of the Potomac," will be presented at the Academy this afternoon, the doors opening at half past one o'clock. The price of admission to this performance has been reduced to twenty-five cents, and we hope to see the house crowded in all its parts. The orphans' from the Soldiers' Home on Bluff street, will be there occupying seats in a body.

Household Affairs.

No other defect in the household arrangements is more observable or annoying than a deficiency in the supply, or the inferior quality of queensware. So well is this understood by the perfect housekeeper that, one of the most important matters in her domestic affairs is in relation to the purchase of these articles. Heretofore all choice goods in this line were received by importation, and the cost consequently placed them quite beyond the reach of a great majority of persons. Since the establishment however of the Keystone Pottery, Messrs. S. M. Kier & Co. proprietors, trade has changed, and now the finest articles of queensware, or Bristol ware, equal to any importation may be obtained at an expense which places them with the reach of the most moderate income. Messrs. Kier & Co. at their warerooms No. 363 Liberty street, have on hand constantly a large and varied assortment of these goods, which they feel satisfied will bear examination, and give satisfaction to every purchaser.

The Sunday Leader.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Pittsburgh Leader on the fifth page of to-day's paper. A first class Sunday paper is essentially necessary, and the Sunday Leader fully meets the requirements of the public. It is edited by an experienced and able writer, who being independent and untrammelled, by either sect, clique or creed, is enabled to present fearlessly all questions of general interest, of either a political or religious nature, in their true light, thereby giving the public a view of the inside working of "Rings," &c., which connot be obtained throuah a journal of a different character. The Leader supplies a deficiency long felt in this city, and the extensive patronage it enjoys is an evidence that it is a first class paper.

A-non-est Man.

John Dale has been boarding at Soho with a chap named Walter. What his surname is nobody knows. Yesterday John awoke and found his coat and watch, together worth about a hundred dollars, and his room mate, gone. The following note explained the mysterious disappearance:

Dear John i have got word of a plase down the river an i havo tacken your sundy coat an your watch to make myself respecktibel so as they may take me for a onest man lick you i am not shure how far it is down it is a hammer man man job i gow down with the steamboat she gowes at 12 i dont now whither i will get up to night or not it was the blacksmith that told me so dont werry till i come back

John Dale couldn't see the joke and did worry. so he made known his case to the Mayor. and a warrant was issued.

The Corner Store.

At the popular and cheap dry goods store of Richard Deakes, corner of Fifth avenue and Grant street, our readers will find a large and well selected stock of dry goods of the latest styles, which are being sold at remarkable low prices. The stock of carpets at this popular establishment is one of the largest in the city, and the prices are away down below the times. Persons in need of either dry goods, carpets, &c., will, by a purchasing visit to the Corner Store, find that the stock is not excelled either in quantity, quality or price.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The two General Assemblies of the Presbyterian Church will meet in New York city on the 20th. Of course, the great absorbing question of re-union will be discussed at much length by both bodies. We regret to chronicle the impression prevailing, that the prospects of success are less favorable than they have been considered, through the increased opposition among the Old School, and of indifference among the New School. We are still, however, hopeful that when these bodies meet some plan will be inaugurated by which the differences may be removed and re-union facilitated, if not fully consummated.

The anniversary exercises of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions was held in New York Sunday week. From the report we learn the Board had, during the past year, doing its work in different places, eighty-three missionaries, thirteen native preachers, eighty-six assistant missionaries, and one hundred and seventy-three native helpers. There were forty-eight churches connected with the various missions which report eighteen hundred and thirty-six communicants. The attendance at the schools numbers seventy-four hundred children.

The Church of the Ascension, (Protestant Episcopal) of New York city, has decided to make its church sittings free to all comers on Sunday evenings. The Christian Advocate of New York says several Boards of Trustees of different denominations have, during the last few months, changed their pewed churches to free ones. In every case reported thus far the change has resulted in enlarging the congregations and increasing the financial receipts.

Within the past six months one hundred and three persons have been added to the membership of the Second Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Rev. William Cathcart, pastor, seventy-two by baptism and thirty-one by letter. During this spiritual harvest only one extra meeting was held.

The Julianna street Hebrew congregation of Philadelphia have just contracted for the building of one of the finest (if not the finest) Jewish temples in the United States. It is estimated the lot and building will cost three hundred thousand dollars.

An exchange says the latest idea for fashionable churches is a retiring room like that of the opera house, where ladies can leave their cloaks, parasols, etc., and, thus disencumbered, listen to the word in all the glory of gorgeous raiment.

The Classis, of Philadelphia, Reformed Dutch Church, which met in Philadelphia this week, it is expected, would admit Rev. T. X. Orr, of Allegheny City, and make arrangements for his installation as pastor of the First Reformed Church of that city.

The Independent, referring to a pastor in "La Grange," in regard to baptism, says that a few Sabbaths ago he reports he was "permitted to bury two with Christ by baptism," and last Sabbath week two more "followed their Redeemer into the liquid grave," while three others will "in like manner put on Christ" at the earliest opportunity.

Rev. Heman Bangs, D. D., over fifty years in the itinerant ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at the recent session of the New York East Conference, was placed on the superannuated list, at his own request. He occupied the office of Presiding Elder for a great number of years, owing to his superior administrative abilities and popularity. It is estimated that he has been instrumental in building some forty or fifty churches in Connecticut, and twenty parsonages. He claims to be the first Methodist in this country who preached on temperance; and says ten thousand souls have been converted under his ministry. When he announced his desire to retire from the active work, the occasion was one of thrilling interest. The old veteran was presented with three thousand dollars by his friends on retiring.

Some days since we made reference to the success attending the mission of Father Doane in securing funds to endow the American (Catholic) College at Rome—say one hundred and sixty-eight thousand dollars. Of this sum, ten thousand one hundred and fifty-five dollars, we omitted to mention, was contributed by the Diocese of Pittsburgh.

Considerable success has attended the labors of Rev. Mr. Foote, in charge of the Episcopal Mission recently established in Salt Lake City, Utah Territory. He reports, within the last sixteen months, confirmations, thirty-one; communicants, forty-four; Sunday school scholars, one hundred and fifty; teachers, thirteen; grammar school scholars, one hundred; teachers, six; contributions for Church purposes, nearly four thousand dollars.

Notwithstanding Presbyterianism has had slow growth in Boston, it is reported that the Beach-street church in that city is now growing faster than any other church there. They have just paid the thirty thousand dollars debt, with no aid from abroad.

The Independent says since the Springfield street Congregational church, of Boston, has adopted the system of free seats, the rate of giving has been increased five hundred per cent. over that of last year.

Dr. John Hall, the popular Presbyterian preacher in New York, thinks that the exercises of some of the Christian Conventions might be advantageously varied by permitting the query how to make ourselves better, to share some of the attention that is now given to how to make others better.

Rev. R. L. Stewart, of Allegheny city, who has accepted the call of the Presbyterian church in Conneautville, Pa., will enter upon his pastoral duties about the 1st of June.

Archbishop Purcell confirmed one hundred and forty-five persons on Sunday week, in the Catholic church, at Springfield, Ohio.

It is estimated that it costs the ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church a million of dollars, for moving expenses, in going from one appointment to another each year.

One hundred thousand dollars are received for pew rents the present year by Grace church, on Broadway, New York. This sum, if economically used, ought to pay its current expenses.

The Cincinnati Commercial says the revival in the Presbyterian, Methodist, and Quaker churches is still progressing wonderfully in Richmond, Indiana. A writer says it is refreshing to visit the latter church and hear their warm exhortations and fervent songs. They shout and sing gloriously. The shouting and singing are new features in their religious exercises.

A Catholic Pastoral.

The pastoral letter of the Most Reverend Archbishop Spalding and the suffragan prelates composing the Tenth Provincial Council, which closed its session in Baltimore on Sunday, the 2d instant, has been made public. We extract from the pastoral its remarks on certain points:

Prominent among the evils we have to deplore, and which are an evidence of the growing licentiousness of the times, may be reckoned a morbid taste for indecent publications and the frequentation of immoral or positively obscene theatrical performances. No entertainments seem sufficient to satisfy the fast degenerating spirit of the age, unless they be highly sensational and calculated to gratify the most prurient appetites. We can hardly say who deserve a stronger condemnation, the actors who pander to the most vitiated tastes, or the audience who encourage by their presence and applaud these grossly indelicate exhibitions. Both actors and spectators appear to vie with each other in their rapid march down the slippery road of sin. The church, far from discountenancing, has always encouraged innocent and moderate amusements as useful or necessary relaxations. But while approving of harmless diversions, she never ceases to exercise her sacred influence in censuring all amusements which can be purchased only at the expense of virtue.

We deem it particularly our solemn duty to renew our warning against the modern fashionable dances, commonly called German or round dances, which are becoming more and more the occasion of sin. These practices are so much the more dangerous, as several persons seem to look upon them as harmless, and indulge in them without any apparent remorse of conscience. But Divine revelation, the wisdom of antiquity, the light of reason and of experience—all concur in proclaiming that these kinds of entertainments, even when restricted within tolerable bounds of propriety, are attended with more or less danger to the Christian soul. If such has been the verdict of God and His Church regarding less objectionable forms of dancing, we cannot too strongly reprobate the system of "round dancing" recently introduced into society, which shocks every feeling of delicacy, and is fraught with imminent danger to morals. It can hardly be expected that any virtuous persons, unless they be more than human, can, without detriment to their souls, be present and take part in such amusements where the eye is dazzled by an array of fascinating objects, where the senses are captivated by enchanting music, and the heart is swayed to and fro amid the surrounding gaiety and excitement. If the participation in such scenes should not at first deeply wound the conscience, it "grieves the spirit of God," and tarnishes the snow white lily of chastity, the most precious ornament of the female sex, which she "carries in earthen vessels." The faithful are therefore warned against participating in such amusements.

Our colored brethern should have a large share in the exercise of our zeal, particularly in those sections of the province where they are more numerously congregated. Our Heavenly Father, whose benign Providence watches over the humblest of his creatures on earth, as well as over the highest angels in Heaven, enjoins on the pastors of His Church the ministering with equal care to the lowly and the great. God forbid that we should exercise less vigilance in laboring for the salvation of those immortal souls whom God "created in his own image and likeness," and for whom His only begotten Son did not disdain to die. The Church, while careful never rudely to disturb the established relations existing between the different classes of society, makes no distinction of persons in the distribution of her heavenly gifts. And she honors alike her devoted missionaries, whether they evangelize the white race, like St. Francis de Sales, or the Japanese; like St. Francis Xavier, or the negro slave of Carthagena; like blessed Peter Claver. The colored people are tractable and generally grateful for our ministrations. Their unsettled and abnormal condition, necessarily arising from their sudden emancipation, should the more actively excite our sympathy. "We that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weaker." We, therefore, desire that separate schools and churches be established for the blacks, wherever, in the judgment of the Ordinary, they may be deemed practicable and expedient. Where special schools and churches are not erected for them, every facility should be afforded for their religious and moral training, as far as circumstances will permit.

The letter recommends the withdrawal of Catholic children from the public schools, and confining them to schools of their own. In connection with this subject, the letter remarks:

"While we are gratified at witnessing so many intelligent persons throughout the country embracing the true faith, we are obliged to confess with sorrow that a greater number are lost to the Church. There is no exaggeration in saying now what Bishop England felt it his sacred duty to state many years ago, that hundreds, nay thousands, of souls annually stray away from the fold in this country on account of their early religious education. If we look for the deseendants of those numerous Catholic families which have immigrated to the country during the past and present century, we will find that many of them have wandered away from the faith of their fathers, and not a few of them are now ranking among the most active and unrelenting enemies of the Church of God."

Tennessee—Interesting Letter from an Old Subscriber.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

OAK HILL SEMINARY, TENN., Nay 10th, 1869.

EDITORS GAZETTE: Having been a reader of the Pittsburgh GAZETTE from the earliest period of my recollection, and inasmuch as I receive it no less regularly in this distant clime than I did under my paternal roof, surrounded by my school boy associates, within six miles of your city, and as the period will soon arrive when a renewal of my subscription for your valuable Weekly will be necessary, the thought has occurred to me that with a little vigilance I may perhaps send the names of some eight or ten new subscribers.

Emigrants in search of homes are almost daily arriving at Tullahoma, many, I am happy to say, from Pennsylvania, my native State. They have already procured homes, and are much pleased with the country and climate. We have had a very cold, backward spring, and farmers are now busily engaged in planting corn and cotton, which is at least one month later than usual. Our peach crop in Middle Tennessee will be almost an entire failure, but the prospect for a large crop of apples and cherries is flattering. Many of our apples at present are as large as full grown cherries. Never within the recollection of the oldest citizen has there been a similar prospect for so heavy a yield as that promised in the present growing wheat crop of Middle Tennessee. Having recently traveled through portions of Lincoln, Bedford and Warren counties, I was much pleased with the appearance of the large wheat fields, many of them containing over one hundred acres, just coming to head.

A better day seems to be dawning for Tennessee. A disposition is manifested to forget the past. Northern men are daily arriving in search of homes, and land, in consequence, is steadily appreciating, but can yet be bought at very reasonable prices. An improved farm of some two hundred acres, within one mile of Concord, on the Manchester and McMinville Railroad, was recently sold to a gentleman from Mercer county, Pennsylvania, for $2,500. A large paper mill, owned by Mr. Whiteman, of Nashville, has recently been started, and is in successful operation, at Manchester, our county seat. It is now manufacturing from four to five thousand pounds of paper per day. A large cotton factory will also be put under contract in a few weeks. Middle Tennessee may well be proud of her water privileges. Cascade Falls, Rutledge Falls, and the falls of Duck river, at Manchester, have scarcely a parallel for manufacturing purposes in the known world.

Rev. Mr. Jewett, formerly Professor of Oak Hill Seminary, who removed to the far West during the war, his many friends will be pleased to learn, is about to return and resume his former position. He is a gentleman of untarnished reputation.

The Sabbath Schools of Tullahoma, Oak Hill, Manchester, Beach Grove and McMinville had a pic nic at Manchester on Saturday, May 8th. The sky serene and the day lovely, rendered it truly an interesting time, and many little hearts were made to rejoice in the festivities of the occasion.

Persons visiting this locality will, by calling on Messrs. Campbell and Gentner, enterprising merchants of Tullahoma, receive any information that they are in possession of relative to the country.

Steel Rails.

We find the following in our exchanges, as the expression of the President of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad, concerning steel rails:

"The first steel rail imported has already worn out sixteen iron rails, and we have not now any reason that the latter invoices are of an inferior quality. But there is great fear on my part that railroad companies will themselves tempt steel-makers to send a poor article by buying the cheapest—first cost only considered—as they did with the iron masters. It rests with railroad men to keep steel rails good by buying no poor ones.

"We try steel with the chisel for hardness, with the trip-hammer for toughness, and for strength with the 2-240 pound drop fifteen feet, the rail resting on supporters three feet apart. Rigid inspection, make no holes, or, at all events, no punched holes, in the rails. Punching is bad enough for iron, but death to steel.

"We, on Friday last, dropped out 2-240-pound 'trip' twenty feet upon a steel rail resting on supports three feet apart. The rail was merely bent. I have in my office a steel rail twisted cold, into a regular spiral of one entire turn to two feet in length, without crack or flaw.

THE recent revelations in the Sun about J. Russell Young, the managing editor of the Tribune, recall a little circumstance in that gentleman's history which will bear repetition.

Four years ago, while Young was managing editor of the Philadelphia Press, Colonel Forney came into the editorial rooms about ten or eleven o'clock at night, but, to his surprise, found not an editor on duty.

He then sent for the foreman of the composing room, and inquired what editorial matter had been given out that evening, and received an answer that none of the editors had given out anything. Colonel Forney quietly took his seat and gave two or three columns of news and editorial as rapidly as he could prepare it.

Next morning when the editors came in they found Colonel Forney looking sternly, and, without any words, he immediately wrote for all of them a furlough for a week. As a result of this movement, Manager Young was left with the paper on his hand and without any help.

He immediately sent in his resignation, which was promptly accepted, as it was exactly what Colonel Forney wanted. This is the way in which Young resigned the editorial management of the Philadelphia Press.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, May 14, 1869.

The oil market was again moderately active to day, there having been a fair volume of business in the aggregate, but aside from this there were no new characteristics worthy of special notice. As has been the case for some time past, the great proportion of the sales have been made to cover oil contracts, and those who sold short within the past three months are now able to cover at a very handsome profit. There are still some 10 and 12 cent options out, sold during the latter part of 1868, and those who were so unfortunate as to sell them, will not be so badly scotched after all as was generally expected. Our refiners, generally, are still holding off in hopes that Crude will go still lower, and that by and by the market will get into shape to enable them to start up their works again.

REFINED.

The Refined market was fairly active to-day, indeed, the sales in the aggregate were a little larger than usual, while prices, compared with yesterday, are without quotable change. The sales were:

CRUDE.

There was also a fair business done in Crude to-day, the sales being rather larger than usual, while with the exception of spot oil, which is a shade lower, prices are about the same as yesterday. The sales reported were as follows:

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, May 14, 1869.

The metal market, compared with last week, presents but little that is new or important. There is considerable inquiry for small lots of desirable grades of foundry irons and there is but comparatively little of this kind to be had. The demand for mill irons is only moderate. Stocks generally are pretty well reduced and arrivals light, while prices are without quotable change.

Manufactured iron and nails remain unchanged. There is a continued fair demand, but prices are so low that there is little or no margin to the manufacturer.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede slowly with scant 4½ feet in channel. Weather cloudy and cool, but pleasant. Mercury at 4 P. M. 70.

Business quiet at the landing, freights for all points being rather scarce.

The Emma No. 3, departed for New Orleans yesterday with about all the freight she could take on the water.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg today leaving promptly at noon. The Eagle is a permanent institution in this trade.

The R. C. Gray departed for Louisville, and she, too, had about all she could take on the water. Pilots—Shouse and Dorsey.

The Maggie Hays, Capt. B. C. Martin, is announced for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi forthwith. The Maggie has been plying regularly in the Pittsburgh and St. Louis trade all season.

A new steamer, named the Mountain Belle, arrived from Brownsville yesterday. She was bu lt for the Gallopolis and Kanawha River trade, by Capt. Smithers. She has the machinery and cabin of the Cottage No. 2.

The Active, has been considerably remodled and improved, and is now, we understand, owned by Capt. Smithers and others, and she too, will be placed in the Kanawha River trade.

The Matamoras No. 2, Capt. Robert Dalzell, is announced to leave for New Orleans, on or about the 20th.

The towboat Ajax left Louisville for New Orleans on Wednesday, with 13 boats and 12 barges of coal, 2 barges of nut coal, and a "French creek," in all 25 pieces, amounting to 444,000 bushels of coal.

The Leonidas passed Wheeling on Thursday evening, and would doubtless have arrived yesterday, had it not been for the low water.

—The Wauanita was to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Thursday.

—Capt. Thornton Jacobs has purchased the little Lotus No. 2, at Shreveport.

—Alpha is the name of the little pleasure steamer which ran under the bow of a coal barge at Memphis, on Sunday evening, drowning five persons.

—Capt. James R. Johnson is building a boat for mail service on the Tennessee River, to ply between Decatur and Guntersville, Alabama.

—Hon. James Williams, who made a fortune by steamboat, enterprises on the Tennessee River, died at Gratz, Austria, April 10. His two daughters married noblemen in that country.

—Capt. Lou. Greenlee has chartered the Carrie Poole for the New Orleans and Bayou Macon trade. The Tahlequah has withdrawn from the Ouachita trade, and the Rob Roy was advertised to leave New Orleans for Cincinnati on Monday.

—A St. Louis telegram under date of Wednesday says: Rain has fallen almost continually for the past forty-eight hours, with no prospect of immediate cessation. It has also been general, extending throughout the West and Northwest, and a rise in all the upper rivers may soon be expected. The Missouri is now swelling quite rapidly at Benton, Muscle Shell and other points, but falling at Sioux City and below. All the mountain boats, as far as known, are progressing finely. Competition on the Upper Mississippi is quite active, and freights are low. The Ironsides, which arrived Tuesday night, has gone down to the iron pile, and will load four barges with ore.

—Wheeling Intelligencer of Thursday. It is now said that the New State will go into service next Tuesday. The John W. Garrett and barges were to leave last night for St. Louis. We suppose they got away, as Capt. J. K. Booth leaves when he says he will.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republican voters of Allegheny county are requested to meet at the usual places for holding elections in the several wards, boroughs and townships, on

SATURDAY, MAY 29th, 1869,

And elect delegates from each election district each of the three following Conventions, viz:

Two delegates from each to the COUNTY CONVENTION, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Sheriff, Recorder, Register, Treasurer, Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions, Clerk of the Orphans' Court and Commissioner.

Two other delegates from each to the LEGISLATIVE CONVENTION, for the purpose of nominating one candidate for State Senator, for one year, to fill the unexpired term of Russell Errett, resigned, and six candidates for Assembly. And

Two other delegates from each to the JUDICIAL CONVENTION, to nominate one candidate for Judge of the District Court, and one candidate for Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, and elect eight delegates to represent the county in the Republican State Convention.

These Conventions will severally meet, in the city of Pittsburgh, on

TUESDAY, JUNE 1, 1869,

At 11 o'clock A. M., at the following places:

The COUNTY CONVENTION will meet at the COURT HOUSE.

The LEGISLATIVE CONVENTION will meet at CITY HALL, on Market street. And

The JUDICIAL CONVENTION will meet in MASONIC HALL, on Fifth avenue, between Wood and Smithfield streets.

The election of delegates will be held between the hours of 4 and 7 o'clock P. M., and will be held, as far as practicable, by the Republican members of the election boards in the several districts; and in those districts where the Republican election officers are a minority of the regular election boards, the said officers are authorized to appoint enough additional officers to complete the board.

The voting in the cities and boroughs shall, in all cases, be by ballot, and in the townships by marking.

The President of each Convention will appoint a Committee of three, the three Committees thus appointed to meet together, as soon as practicable after the adjournment of the Conventions, and appoint a County Committee for the ensuing year.

By order of the County Committee.

RUSSELL ERRETT, Chairman.

JOHN H. STEWART, Secretary.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 84½.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 138¾.

IT IS REPORTED from Richmond that Chief Justice CHASE, on the 13th, sitting upon Circuit, received a plea of the Federal statute of limitations, as to the sufficient defense of a Marshal who had turned over funds officially in his hands to the Confederate Government. The country will wait for the text of this decision, with very much interest. It is rather a strong doctrine, to let that statute run against the United States during the pendency of treasonable hostilities, and in the interest of a then rebel enemy, who is thus to profit by his own wrong. It is to be presumed that the Chief Justice has the authority of law, but the plain and unprofessional commmon-sense of the people can neither understand it, nor commend its operations.

IN ANOTHER PLACE we publish the sales to take place under the auspices of Sheriff S. B. CLULEY, at the Court House, on Monday, June 7th, 1869. Inasmuch as this, perhaps, is the final announcement of that gentleman through our columns, it will be but just to pay tribute to his excellency as a public officer. He has discharged his duties with efficiency and fidelity, and no word of reproach has even been heard against his administration. Fearless, honest, capable and exacting, he has made such an official as all citizens desired, and such a one as is worthy the confidence and approval of the entire community. It is announced that he is a candidate for State Senator, subject to the nomination of the Republican Convention. Should he be selected to occupy that position we are confident that he would reflect credit to his constituency, and make an eviable record. No office is too good to award a gentleman who proven his honesty and capacity so fully as our out-going Sheriff, and if he is nominated we can lend a hearty and cheerful help to secure his election.

SACRED MEMORIES.

It is an ennobling sight to see men forgetting the cares and wiles of life and traffic, women dropping their household worries, and children hushing the noise of their play, to cast a few moments of memory upon the tombs of men whose only gains were their graves and the thoughts that it was a grand and glorious cause for which they died. No na- one day at least, we believe that "underground precedency 's a jest." For one day we join with the poet and say:

"Ye sleep beneath the valley's dew,
And all the nation mourns for you."

The father remembers the prop on tion can better afford to spare a day out of the noisy year to quiet reminiscences upon such a topic than ours, for no other nation has such a chapter in its history. Heroes, patriots and martyrs to liberty and principle they may possess, but America only has her "fair acres of God" underlined with all these combined. Corruption, luxury and extravagance may be exhausting our virtue and our strength, but there is enough of both left for us all to mourn over the departed braves and for a brief space forget that we are not all high minded and pure as is our grief.

In every land and age men have delighted to honor the successful warrior, to crown his living head with laurel and lay or hang the wreath of immortelles upon his tomb. But this is not our only object. We do not join in solemn concourse merely to honor those who had won rank and glory before they won the goal on the other side of the dark river. We take just pride in the memories of such heroes as Black, and Childs, Hays and Jackson, and Rippey, but we feel our hearts swell within us when we remember those humbler ones who were "only privates" in the grand army, but commanders-in-chief at their own hearthstones. They all are gone together, and for the which he had trusted so securely to learn, and he goes and casts his sprig of rosemary upon the urn which contains its ashes.

The young man recalls the playmate of his boyhood, who fought with him, perhaps, at school, and by his side on the bloody fields of Virginia or Tennessee, and he, too, sighs as he drops his locust blossom. The widow, the son, the sweetheart, come with their offerings of cypress and hawthorne and honeysuckle until the dark green mounds are transformed into heaping altars to Patriotism and Love.

Nor, on such a day, can we, dare we, recall aught of the past, but such facts as the graves themselves make potent to us. If there were differences in opinion, in politics, in religion, we can no longer recall them. Party joins to party, and sect to sect, at such a time. For one day at least we can say:

"Here let division cease. Join hand with hand,
Join voice with voice; a general shout
Shall like a whirlwind sweep our native land."

THE STUART CASE.

We have not expressed an opinion either in favor of, or in opposition to, the suspension of George H. Stuart, Esq., which was effected by the highest tribunal of his church in this city, about a year ago. Although the pulpit is in the habit of frequently reminding the press of its duties, we have, as a general thing, deemed it more prudent to allow ecclesiastical courts to define their own laws, and decide points of order and matters of discipline as they may arise among themselves. The vindication of the majesty of law is essential to the well-being and perpetuity of any body, whether civil or ecclesiastical. However, in these days of progress and enlightment, laws, which were enacted a century ago, may be impracticable. They may not accord with the spirit and genius of the age. In the closer commingling of members of different religious denominations, they may even seem oppressive. But if Reformed Presbyterians in this country can carry out enactments which were framed, and engrossed in the ecclesiastical statute book of the stern old Scottish Presbyterians centuries ago, they have a right to do it. The laws of the land do not prohibit them from exercising their conscientious convictions in this regard.

It is true, that, at one time, all the Presbyterian bodies of this country worshiped God in the use of the same old Scottish version of the Scripture Psalms, still authorized by the Reformed Presbyterian Church. Now, however, there are only some three or four of the religious organizations of the land that adhere to the use of the Psalms of Scripture exclusively, in the matter of divine praise. Some of these organizations are large. All of them are respectable. But it has been questioned by some honest minds whether a church can grow and flourish, especially in this soil and in this age, that prohibits the use of an evangelical hymn in the worship of God. This is a matter we are not called upon to decide, nor have we any disposition to do so at present. This much, however, we will say, that if laws are impracticable and oppress good men's consciences, it would be better to repeal them, if their repeal will not infringe upon any divine statute. This is a matter which we would gravely commend to the enlightened consideration of those courts of ecclesiastical judicature about to assemble in different parts of the country. But whatever views they may conscientiously entertain, either on the one side or the other, let them not be disturbed either by factious opinion or conduct.

We have been led to make these remarks, in all kindness to all the parties concerned, after perusing a pamphlet which has been laid upon our table, entitled "The Action of the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in the case of George H. Stuart, Esq., examined and justified, by a Minister of the Presbyterian Church, (O. S.) The source of the defence rather staggered us at first. It is by a minister of the Old School General Assembly who declares himself to be in favor of using evangelical hymns in the worship of God. But he treats the subject as an ecclesiastical jurist, and declares that, viewed from a legal stand point, the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church was perfectly justified in taking the action she did in relation to one who confesses that he had used hymns and communed with other denominations, in violation, as the author of the pamphlet thinks, of the fundamental laws of the Reformed Presbyterian organization. In justification of the Synod's action he makes use of the following language:

Nothing is more patent than the injustice which the public generally have done you, brethren, in the unfair and false manner in which they have put the case. "George H. Stuart turned out of his church for singing hymns," is almost the universal form which the fama clamosa assumes. He was not excommunicated for singing hymns, but for defiant law-breaking and faith-breaking by the improper use of hymns. This is like the old infidel slander on the Bible and Bible readers, "All mankind damned for the first paw eating an apple." Our first parents ate forbidden fruit, and they met the threatened consequences. The prohibition was wisely and kindly given as the first step in their training, designed to lead them from the negative and unsafe condition of mere innocence, to a confirmed position of positive virtue.

Equally unfair is the statement that Mr. Stuart was condemned without a trial. Few persons are so little acquainted with judicial law, either civil or ecclesiastical, as not to know that a man who pleads guilty to a charge can have no trial. And Mr. Stuart made his confession on the floor of the Synod, boastingly and defiantly. Had he modestly put in a plea of justification, based on the ground that the law in the premises had perished by desuetude—that the frequent infraction of the statute with impunity had made it a dead letter, doubtless the plea would have been accepted on the condition of promised future obedience. As it was, the Synod pronounced a vote of expulsion, just as the United States Senate or House of Representatives would have done, in the case of a breach of law persistently and defiantly made by any member of either of these bodies. The fact of his suffering from asthma at the time, while it would awaken personal sympathy, could have nothing to do with the legal proceedings in the case. Admitting, however, that the proceedings were informal, mere informality cannot justify the hue and cry that has been raised, as if justice itself had been outraged in her holiest seat, the temple of God, and by the consecrated ministers of the God of justice. As to the plea itself, that the law is a dead letter, it is utterly unavailing. The assertion was denied by the members of Synod when the determination to disregard it was so boldly expressed, and the vote of suspension, so full as it was, abundantly proved that the law was not defunct, for the majority of the Synod pronounced it to be alive.

The complaint that other members of the church, clerical and laical, had sung hymns, and that with impunity, and that they made the avowal with the same boldness, was equally unreasonable. A resident of Ireland was convicted of stealing a pig. When the Judge, before passing sentence, asked, according to custom, whether he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced, the culprit replied, "Yes, please your honor, Mike, there, stole a pig, too." "No excuse, my friend," said the Judge, "we are dealing with you now." None will understand the force of this argument better than Mr. Stuart himself, as the principal of an extensive business house, to the interests of which he knows law and order are vital. Let us suppose that some of his clerks chose to consider a certain law a dead letter and persistently disregarded it. Among the delinquents is one of his chief clerks. He calls him into his counting room and questions him. The response is bold and defiant. Mr. Stuart calmly replies, "You will consider yourself, sir, dismissed from my service." Why so?" says the complainant, "why am I thus dealt with? Others have broken this law, too." "For the very sufficient reason, sir," might be the reply, if any were given at all, "that you occupy an important position in my establishment, and that your services are valuable to me, and I wish my clerks to understand that the maintenance of my authority here is paramount in my esteem to all other considerations. I make an example of you for the general good."

There is much that is extraneous in the pamphlet, and some things that strike us as inconsistent, but it will no doubt be satisfactory to those who are for the defence of the Synod.

Difficulties arising out of this case will be discussed, as is expected, by the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, which will meet in Cedarville, Ohio, next week. Our readers will be furnished with a full report of the proceedings as they take place from day to day.

British Official Corruption.

A correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says that a friend of his, who acts as Secretary to one of the Government departments, had to check the delivery of £200,000 worth of iron supplied by a Northern firm. Before he began his task, he was asked, "I suppose you will require the usual commission of 2½ per cent?" In other words, the firm proposed to bribe the servant of the public with a gift of £5,000, in order to pass goods which were no doubt worth, not only £5,000 less than the contract price, but a good many five thousands. How long has this sort of thing been going on? How many undiscovered Gambiers and Rumbolds are there?

Meeting of the Coal Exchange.

The towboat owners and coal dealers, and others interested in the coal trade of Pittsburgh, held a meeting yesterday morning at their rooms, 136 Water street, which was largely attended. The object of the meeting was to obtain speedy legislation by Congress, prohibiting the erection of narrow span bridges over the Ohio River. Among other business transacted, the following resolution was adopted, approving the action of the Ohio Legislature in regard to bridging the Ohio river:

Resolved, That we fully endorse the action of the Ohio Legislature, in passing the law prohibiting the erection of bridges across the Ohio river of less span than four hundred feet, and that we pledge ourselves to assist them in resisting the attempts of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, or any other railroad company, to erect narrow span bridges.

Assault and Battery.—David Lewis made information against Timothy Jones before Justice Barker of South Pittsburgh, yesterday, charging him with assault and battery, Martha Jones made information before the same magistrate, charging Henry Nimick with assault and battery.

Wm. Richards, at the same time and place made information charging Parke Young with assault and battery. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the accused.

LIBEL.

Hearing of John W. Pittock and James Mills of the Sunday Leader, on a Charge of Libel, preferred against them by William R. Ford.

We have already reported that Mr. Wm. R. Ford, formerly a member of the State Legislature, had entered suit before the Mayor, charging J. W. Pittock, proprietor, and James Mills, editor of the Pittsburgh Sunday Leader, with libel. The suit is based on a paragraph that appeared in the Leader of May 2d, in an article on "Local Politics," in which it stated that Mr. Ford, who was then, we believe, a candidate for the Legislature "had better stay away from Harrisburg, as the atmosphere of the place was not suited to his moral health," and that, when he was there, "his vote was in the market." The case came up before the Mayor yesterday morning at nine o'clock. Messrs. Moreland, Moore and Kerr appeared as counsel for the prosecution, and Sol. Schoyer, Jr., Esq., for the defense.

The case was opened by Mr. Moreland reading the information.

Mr. Schoyer stated that before cross examining the prosecutor on the information, he would call the Mayor's attention to the 9th article of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which provides that the truth may be given in evidence in case of this kind. This was not like other libel cases. The prosecutor was a public officer, and it was officially known to his Honor and to all others that Mr. Ford was a member of the State Legislature.

Mr. Moreland said he agreed with Mr. Schoyer that the doors should be thrown wide open for the most searching investigation. If the defense could show that Wm. R. Ford's vote was in the market they should have the fullest opportunity of doing so.

Mr. W. R. Ford was then placed upon the stand and cross-examined by Mr. Schoyer on the information. In answer to questions he stated that, winter before last, he was a member of the State Legislature. Previous to the appearance of the article in the Leader he had told some of his friends that he was again a candidate, but he had since withdrawn his name. While in the Legislature, he was Chairman of the Printing Committee, a member of the Committee on Railroads, and the Committee on Municipal Claims. He supposed the Railroad Committee to be a very important one, and that on Claims slightly so. He knew nothing of the duties of the Committee on Vice and Immorality. He knew Mr. Singerly. There was a resolution introduced in regard to the accounts of Singerly & Myers, State Printers. Mr. Singerly called on witness in the hall of the House of Representatives, shortly after the appointment of the Committee, shook hands, and wanted to know if witness would give him a fair show. Witness said "yes." Mr. S. said he thought witness was "down on him." When the resolution was introduced, witness was considerably annoyed. Mr. S. was one of his constituents, and had an idea that witness was against him. Witness asked Mr. Myers confidentially about the matter and Mr. M. showed him three or four books of the firm. He (witness) was a young member, and was not posted. Through his friendship for Mr. Singerly he kept back the resolution, and this was thrown up to him by Mr. Thorn, witness told him that he knew nothing against Mr. Singerly, and did not wish to do anything against him. In return for his services he did claim one little advantage. He asked to have one bill kept off the calendar. The excitement over the election of speaker of the House was considerable: the Allegheny county delegation was divided, Mr. Ford positively asserted that he never made any arrangement with Mr. Davis regarding his appointment on Committees in consideration of voting for him for Speaker. Told Mr. Davis, at the Monongahela House, that he would vote for him and did so. Mr. Ford had charge of the Peoples' Passenger Railway bill. He said the bill was not defeated in the Senate. It passed with amendments. the names of some of the incorporators being changed.

Mr. Schoyer asked—"Did you not know that these amendments would defeat the object of the bill?"

Mr. Ford—"No. It came to the House with names changed, but not a man on it I could object to. I would like to have carried the bill as it was, but saw that a majority of the House were opposed to it."

Mr. Schoyer—"In your conversation with Mr. Singerly, did you mention the subject of compensation?"

Mr. Ford—"Had no words with Mr. Singerly concerning money. The idea of money had not entered my mind, and I could not, therefore, have expressed it in words. I did say in conversation with friends, that I thought Mr. Singerly ought to help me politically."

Mr. Schoyer—"Did you tell Mr. Singerly that you had refused $1,000 for a vote?"

Mr. Ford—"I did not."

Mr. Schoyer—"Did you ever refuse money?"

Mr. Ford—"No, sir."

Mr. Schoyer—"Was money ever offered to you?"

Mr. Ford—I have answered that three or four times."

Mr. Schoyer—"You can answer it again."

Mr. Ford—"No."

Mr. Ainsworth, of the Ninth ward, was called, and testified that he had, on the 5th of May, purchased at Pittock's a copy of the Sunday Leader containing the alleged libelous article, and that he had read the article.

Wm. Ramsey, sworn—Am reporter for the Post; know Mr. Pittock and Mr. Mills; Mr. Pittock is reported to be the proprietor and Mr. Mills the editor of the Leader: Mr. Mills generally writes the articles in the Leader that appear under the caption of "Local Politics:" do not know that he wrote the article upon which is based this information for libel.

Benjamin Singerly, sworn—My legal residence is Pittsburgh; was associated with U. H. Myers as State Printers; know Mr. Wm. R. Ford; in the early part of the winter session of 1868 I received a telegraphic dispatch from my partner at Harrisburg, asking me to call on Mr. Ford, who was then at home; called to see Mr. Ford, and he told me of a resolution that had originated in the Committee on Printing, calling for an investigation of the accounts of the State Printers: Mr. Ford was Chairman of this Committee; some time after this went to Harrisburg; had conversations with the Committee in regard to the State Printing; they asked me how we could afford to do the printing for so small an amount of money; the idea was hinted at that an investigation of the matter might be stopped; there were frequent hints and innuendoes on their part about money.

Mr. Moreland objected to this kind of testimony. The witness used the term "they," which meant that other persons had spoken about money. Mr. Ford could not be held accountable for the actions of other members of the Legislature.

Mr. Schoyer said that Mr. Ford was Chairman of the Committee. This was part of the res gestae, and should not be excluded.

Mr. Moreland renewed his objection, and made a brief argument in support thereof.

His Honor, the Mayor, decided that the testimony was admissable.

Mr. Singerly continued—Mr. Ford, at one time, approached me in regard to the matter, and said the Democrats had been bought up, and he thought he should have his dividend.

Mr. Ford, (interrupting the witness,)—"It is false."

Mr. Singerly—(bringing his cane in violent contact with the floor)—"It is not false; by G—d, sir, I am under oath; I stand by what I have said"

"Mr. Schoyer—"I ask that the witness be protected."

Mr. Singerly then proceeded. "He accused me of giving money to the Democrats, and said he thought he had a right to a share; Charley Armstrong told me—"

Mr. Moreland ordered a halt.

Mr. Singerly—"All right; shut it off if it is not proper testimony."

Mr. Schoyer—"Could the resolution in regard to the State Printers have been offered in the House by Mr. Ford at any time?"

Mr. Singerly—Yes, it was a privileged question; the resolution could have been presented in the House by Mr. Ford upon almost any day of the week."

Mr. Schoyer—"Did you, from your conversation with Mr. Ford, get the impression that he wanted money?"

Mr. Singerly—"I did, sir; I thought Mr. Ford meant business. I have been approached in the same way before—had been surrounded by the same circumstances—and the impression I obtained at this subsequent interview was that Mr. Ford wanted money. I was surrounded by inuendoes all the time. I was asked by Mr. Ford if I was not willing to give money: he said the Democrats had been bought off, and they wanted their share. Mr. Ford was a candidate, the next year, for re-election; I opposed him on this very ground—the charge af corruption. It was the place of Mr. Ford, as Chairman of the Committee on Printing, to offer the resolution.

Cross-examined by Mr. Moreland—

Q. "Do you know William C. McCarthy?"

A. "I do."

Q. "Did you ever tell Mr. McCarthy that you had wronged Mr. Ford, and that you would ask the delegates from your ward to vote for him?"

A. "I do not remember anything about a conversation with Mr. McCarthy. I was approached by Mr. Ford on the day of the Convention, at which time he protested that he never meant that he wanted money. He asked for my support. I told him if he could get the delegates he might have them."

Q. "Did you not say to Mr. McCarthy that you had wronged Mr. Ford, that you were sorry for it, and that the delegates should be pledged to vote for him?"

A. "I never said that I had wronged Mr. Ford, and I never pledged the delegates."

Q. "Why did you go to see Mr. Ford in 1868?"

A. "I went to see him because of a telegraphic dispatch from Mr. Myers, my partner. Upon that occasion, when he told me about the resolution, I said our accounts were at the Auditor General's Office, and they could be examined at any time."

Q. "At what time was it that Mr. Ford spoke to you about compensation?"

A. "It was near the end of the session when he came to me about the 'dividend.'"

Q. "Did you not at that time regard the matter as a joke, and treat it as such?"

A. "I might not at that time have thought as much of the matter as I did afterwards, but I never thought it was a joke."

Q. "Did you not tell Mr. McCarthy that you had wronged Mr. Ford, and that he (F.) should have the delegates."

A. "I have no recollection of telling Mr. McCarthy anything of the kind. It was after a great deal of protestation on the part of Mr. Ford, on the Court House steps, that I told him the delegates might do as they pleased. I did not tell the delegates to vote for him; I think the record will show they voted against him."

Q. "Why did you tell Mr. Ford he might have the delegates, if he could get them?"

A. "Mr. Ford told me that he would tell Charley Armstrong he was a liar. It was upon the strength of this remark that I said what I did about the delegates."

[It is proper to explain here that Mr. Singerly states that he was told by Charley Armstrong that Mr. Ford said he (Mr. Singerly) ought to give him (Mr. Ford) five thousand dollars.—REP.]

At this stage Mr. Moreland asked for an adjournment of the hearing, as his attendance was required at the Court House.

Mr. Schoyer was also in favor of an adjournment, because of the absence of one of their witnesses, Mr. Armstrong.

By agreement, however, Mr. McCarthy was called to the stand. He testified as follows: Am acquainted with Mr. Singerly; saw him in the Court House on the day of the Convention; the sum and substance of what he there said to me was, that he had done a wrong to Mr. Ford, and was sorry for it; after he had made this statement he walked away.

Cross-examined by Mr. Schoyer—The conversation at the Court House was brought about, I suppose, from a previous conversation I had with Mr. Singerly, on Fifth street, in which he gave me to infer that Mr. Ford was one of the parties who were endeavoring to levy black mail; at this time he had no money to give them; he said he challenged an investigation of his accounts. Mr. Singerly said they had got so low that they wanted stationery, and he would not give them even that. The impression left on my mind by the last conversation with Mr. Singerly was that he had changed his opinion with regard to Mr. Ford. He did not say he had, in so many words.

Mr. Schoyer, addressing the Mayor, said there were so many conflicting statements, that it would not be proper for His Honor to pronounce upon the case. It was the province of a jury to decide as to the credibility of witnesses, and he would therefore ask that the case be sent to court.

The defendants were then required to enter bail in one thousand dollars each for their appearance at court.

A Household Treasure.

A companion, grave or gay, a friend in joy or sadness, a silent comforter in loneliness, and a welcome guest in society, is a Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organ. Its sweet tones will touch a vibrating chord in every human heart, and its presence will be a well spring of delight in every house. The new patent Human Voice or Vox Humana attachment, lately introduced in the Mason & Hamlin organs, makes them the most desirable organs ever presented to the public, and we are glad to know that our citizens appreciate the superiority, which we do know by the great numbers that are being sold by the agent in this city, Mr. C. C. Mellor, 81 Wood street. His warerooms are now stocked with a fresh supply, and lovers of sweet sounds, and especially "purchasers," should not fail to examine these Mason & Hamlin Organs before purchasing elsewhere.

THE REASON WHY

Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher is the best. It is computed that a man's system undergoes three times a year, that is every four months, a radical and thorough change, that is, that at the end of that time nothing remains in the system of the material of which it was composed before that time. The eliminating organs carry out the worn-out and used-up material, and new matter is made to take its place and carry on the workings of the human organism. The cost of four months treatment in this way would not at the outside be more than ten dollars, and frequently the functions of life have an activity and vigor imparted sufficient to renew them by the use of one bottle, costing only one dollar. No organ of the body but will be benefitted by such a process. The liver, the stomach, the kidneys, the skin, the lungs, are all, as it were, made over again by the impetus given to the stomach and digestive system—old and prostrated people whose systems had begun to languish and decay, have been restored by DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER to youthful health and vigor. Especially is this medicine suitable at this season of the year, when the dormant powers of life, like all the rest of nature are emerging from the chilling and torpid state usual to the cold and wintry months. We know very well that all advertised medicines are apt to be regarded as useless and nugatory, but with DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER we feel perfectly secure in the promise that it must do good. Country merchants and those who supply others with needful things for their wants cannot confer a greater service than to keep a few bottles of this valuable medicine on their shelves to supply their wants. Dr. Keyser will take back every half dozen that remains unsold. It at the same time affords the merchant a good profit, and to those who need it, it is of more value than silver and gold, for what can be of more value to man than a medicine which carries health and life to the suffering invalid?

We earnestly entreat all who read this to try one bottle of Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher if they need such a medicine, and we will guarantee satisfaction. In order, however, not to be disappointed, let them buy none but that which has Dr. Keyser's name over the cork and blown in the bottle, and in that way the Doctor will hold himself responsible for its results when the directions are closely followed.

LET US PROTECT OURSELVES.

The physical structure of the strongest human being is vulnerable everywhere. Our bodies are endowed by nature with a certain negative power, which protects them, to some extent, from unwholesome influences; but this protection is imperfect, and cannot be safely relied on in unhealthy regions, or under circumstances of more than ordinary danger. Therefore, it is wisdom; it is prudence; it is common sense to provide against such contingencies, by taking an ANTIDOTE IN ADVANCE: in other words, by fortifying the system with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—the most complete protective against all the epidemic and endemic maladies that has ever been administered in any country. As a remedy for Dyspepsia, there is no medicine that will compare with it. Whoever suffers the pangs of indigestion, anywhere on the face of the earth where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS can be procured, does so voluntarily; for, as surely as truth exists, this valuable TONIC and ALTERATIVE would restore his disordered stomach to a healthy condition. To the nervous it is also especially recommended, and in cases of confirmed constipation it also affords speedy and permanent relief. In all cases of fever and ague the BITTERS is more potent than any amount of quinine, while the most dangerous cases of bilious fever yield to its wonderful properties. Those who have tried the medicine will never use another, for any of the ailments which the HOSTETTER BITTERS professes to subdue. To those who have not made the experiment we cordially recommend an early application to the BITTERS whenever they are stricken by disease of the digestive organs.

THE NEW POEM.

YESTERDAY, TO-DAY & FOREVER.
A Poem. By Edward Henry Beckersteth. $2. (Sent by mail, postage prepaid, on receipt of the price.)

"While the imagery is almost or quite as sublime as that of Dante, there is an element in Bickersteth which obtains not in that writer. The love of God in Christ is made all-pervading, modifying, explaining and comforting. It is a sublime gospel poem, scholarly enough to meet the most fastidious taste, and plain enough to be understood by all, and interesting enough to hold the reader, of whatever class, to the end, and lead him to congratulate himself that he had met with such a work produced in the present century."—Journal of Education.

"It is truly wonderful in conception, sweet and beautiful in execution, and stirs the soul by the grand and awful revelations it brings before it. We do not hesitate to pronounce it the greatest sacred poem that has been written in modern times."—S. S. Times.

DR. WHITTIER

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhœa, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, May 14, 1869.

The gold market remains firm, with an upward tendency. Although bonds are quoted higher in Europe and New York, the shipments of a few millions of bonds are insufficient to cover the deficiency in our exports, and during the coming month we will be obliged to ship coin on a larger scale than heretofore. Any attempt to lower the market by short sales is vigorously contested by those who have bought gold at 139½ to 139⅝, and by those anxious to cover their short contracts, which are very large. On the other hand the higher rates for money in England will prevent a rapid rise to par of any of our government bonds; and gold above 140 would reduce the quotations in London. There is a party now at work whose interest it is to run up gold for the purpose of depressing bonds, the amount on the market being insufficient to meet the requirements of the daily dealings, in consequence of which a large short interest is outstanding uncovered.

Government bonds were dull this morning and opened at a decline of one-half per cent, but at the noon board the market jumped suddenly to the highest figure yet realized.

Stocks did not decline much to-day, as was anticipated, and closed strong. Local stocks for bank shares of the old issues are firmly held, but have to be sold at concessions, as it is the general belief that smaller dividends will be declared for the next half year.

Columbia Oil, which sold at 21½@22 for a few shares of Eastern holders, declared a dividend of two per cent. unexpectedly, and sells now at above 23 in small lots, 25 being asked, at which a limited quantity could be purchased. The Triumph Company also report a new well in territory which was not much thought of, but indications are good and there is reason to believe that this company will soon range among the paying institutions.

Money is more easy with banks and bankers, but a large number of men of means have lately made it a practice to loan out their money at high rates, and the tight money market so far has encouraged them to such an extent that they are not ashamed to ask far above the usual high one and a quarter per cent. per month, asked as outside rates by brokers.

Business shows a little more activity in a small way.

Registered Bonds are obtained for Coupon Bonds and the difference refunded, at the well known Banking House of Ph. R. Mertz, corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 14, 1869.

Money easy at 6@7 per cent. on call loans. Sterling quiet at 9@9¾ per cent. on first class bills. Gold was firm and quiet until near the close of the day, when it became strong and active, and closed at marked advance; price opened at 138⅝, advanced to 138¾, fell to 138½, and closed at 139¼@139⅜. It appears that several prominent operators who were at 30@30 covered their shorts at 136@138, and have gone long of the market. Cash gold in active request, and the carrying rates were 6 down to 2 per cent. and flat.

Governments are strong and higher with a good demand for all issues. The '67s were, however, the favorites and large amounts of them were purchased by German houses on speculative account. Coupons of '81, 121½@121¼; '62, 120⅜@120¼; '64, 116@116½; '65, 116¾@116⅝; new, 118¼@118⅜; '67, 118¼@118⅜; '68, 118¼@@118⅜; 10-40s, 106½@109¼; Pacifics, 106½@106⅝.

State bonds lower on North Carolinas; Tennesses firm; Missouris, 89@89⅜; Old Tennessees, 68¼@68½; new, 65⅜@65⅝; Old North Carolinas, 60½@60⅜; new, 55½@55⅜; Old Virginias, 58¼; new, 61½@63; Louisiana Levees 6s, 69⅞@70¼.

The Stock market opened firm and quiet. This state of affairs continued until after the first issue of the stock exchange, when there was a disposition to realize, and a decline of ⅛@1 per cent. followed. The active shares were New York Central, Michigan Southern, Rock Island, Fort Wayne, St. Paul, Pacific Mail, Western Union and Mariposa preferred. The market, after one o'clock call, was steady but inactive. It subsequently became firm, and recovered somewhat from the lowest point, finally closing unsettled, though firm, particularly on Pacific Mail. Wabash was an exception, and were lower on sales by a leading firm. Indications are that the Governor will sign both the New York Central bills.

Express shares lower. A movement is on foot to consolidate the Coal Companies.

5-30 Prices—Cumberland, 30½@33; Wells express, 33¾@34; American, 40; Adams, 61¼@61½; United States, 66½@67; Merchants Union, 15¼@16; Quicksilver, 19¼@19½; Canton; 62¼@62½; Pacific Mail, 95⅜@95½; Western Union Telegraph, 44¼@44⅜; Mariposa, 23½@24; preferred, 48½@49; New York Central, 182¾@182½; Erie, 30⅝@30⅜; Hudson, 157@157¼; Harlem, 147; Reading, 96½@96¾; Chicago and Alton 158; Terre Haute, 39½@40; preferred, 72@73; Wabash, 76½@76¾; preferred, 82¼@83; St. Paul, 78⅜@78¾; preferred, 87¾@87⅞; Ft. PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, May 14, 1869.

There is a moderate degree of activity manifested in the general markets, and a fair volume of business in the aggregate, but the demand for almost everything is entirely local and prices generally are without quotable change. ## DECORATION DAY.

Meeting of the Executive Committee—The Day Changed—The Ceremonies to Take Place Saturday, the 29th inst.

The Executive Committee of the Grand Army of the Republic, appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the observance of Gen. Logan's order relative to the decoration of the graves of our fallen soldiers, met Friday at four o'clock P. M., at City Hall, pursuant to adjournment.

The meeting was called to order and, in the absence of the Chairman, General A. L. Pearson, Major J. F. Deniston was called to the chair, and Capt. W. B. Cook elected Secretary pro tem.

THE ALLEGHENY SOLDIERS' ORPHANS ASYLUM.

The Chairman read the following communication;

To the Committee of Arrangements for Decoration Day:

The Board of Managers of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Orphans' Asylum who have under their care one hundred and nine soldiers' orphans, regret to hear that you have fixed on Sunday, the 30th instant, for decorating the graves of our fallen heroes.

It will give the managers and children sincere gratification to assist in doing honor to the memory of those to whom we all feel we owe so much. It has been our study constantly to teach all our band of orphans to be patriotic from principle, but the law of God is at the foundation of all our training, and we cannot think of permitting them to engage in any ceremonies or occupation on the Sabbath, which may have a tendency to lessen their reverence for God's holy day.

Hoping your Committee will join with those of other cities in selecting Saturday for the celebration, we remain,

Very respectfully, yours,

THE BOARD OF MANAGERS OF P. AND A. ORPHANS' ASYLUM.

The communication was accepted.

Col. James P. Barr, Vice President o the Soldiers' Orphans' Home, Bluff street, in the Sixth ward, through whom an invitation was extended to the Soldiers' Orphans' in the institution to participate in the ceremonies, was present in conferrence with the committee relative to the arrangements. He stated that if the time was changed to Saturday, instead of Sunday, the invitation would be accepted, and the committee should have the hearty co-operation of himself and others connected with the institution he represented. He regretted to say, however, that it would be impracticable for the children in the institution to participate in the ceremonies on Sunday.

Rev. W. D. Howard, D. D., Chairman of the Committee appointed at a meeting of the ministers of the two cities and vicinity, presented the preamble and resolutions adopted requesting that the day be changed to Saturday. The report was prefaced with appropriate and forcible remarks, favoring the change.

The resolutions were unanimously accepted.

THE DAY CHANGED.

Major A. P. Callow moved that captain Cook, Aid de-camp for Allegheny county, be requested to call a convention for the purpose of considering the change of the day.

Capt. Cook suggested that this would delay the arragements, and thought the Committee had the power and should take the responsibility of changing the day.

Lee S. Smith then offered the following:

Resolved, That the Decoration ceremonies proper be held on Saturday, May 29th, and that the ministers of the various churches in the county be requested to preach memorial sersons to their respective congregations on Sabbath morning, the 30th.

The resolution was adopted by an almost unanimous vote, there being but one vote against it.

On motion of Mr. W. Clark, the Post Commanders were requested to increase the irrespective Committees to three members.

On motion, Messrs. W. P. Cook, A. P. Callow and Martin Sheaffer were appointed a Committee to arrange a programme for the occasion.

The Chairman stated that the Ladies' Monumental Assoiation, through the President, Mrs. Samuel McKee, have expressed an intention to co-operate with the Committee of Arrangements, to assist in furnishing flowers and to take such part in the ceremonies as might be fitting and appropriate.

Miss Hemiup and Miss McKinley, of the First ward (Allegheny) Public Schools, reported through the Chairman of the Committee that the teachers and scholars of these schools would cordially co operate in furnishing flowers, wreaths &c., and do what they could to make the celebration worthy of the occasion.

Several churches were repres nted by delegates, and now, since the day has been changed from Sunday to Saturday, the participation by the congregations, Sabbath schools and other religious societies will be general.

It was resolved to extend an invitation to the soldiers' orphans at the State schools at Phillipsburg, Beaver county, and Uniontown, Fayette county, to participate in the ceremonies, and a committee was appointed to make arrangements with the railroad companies for transporting them to and from the city.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT AND OTHER ASSOCIATIONS.

Mr. S. W. Reynolds moved that invitations be extended to all secret associations, religious associations, firemen and other organizations. Adopted, and the Secretary directed to publish a general invitation to all religious and other associations and organizations.

The Committee then adjourned to meet on Tuesday at three o'clock P. M., and a general invitation is extended to all organizations, religious and otherwise, to send delegates to the meeting in order to complete the arrangements. The ladies associations are particulary requested to send representations to the meeting of the Committee, to confer with them relative to procuring flowers and providing dinner for the soldiers orphans expected to be present from a distance.

Continental Saloon.

We desire to call the attention of our readers to the superiority of the Continental Saloon over any of its competitors, briefly in order that they may know where to call when in search of a good meal. The Continental possesses the advantage of a central location, being situated on Fifth avenue, next door to the Postoffice, and Mr. Holtzheimer, the proprietor, is one of the most accommodating, gentlemanly and efficient caterers in this city. His tables are always supplied with the best of everything in its proper season, and his cooks and attendants are all experienced men, and know how to attend to the wants of the patrons of the establishment.

A Fine Assortment.

W. W. Moorhead, 81 Market street, has now one of the finest assortments of lace goods, trimmings and dress goods to be found in the city. The stock has been selected with especial care, and being but just received, will be found fully up to the latest fashions and styles. For a superior quality of goods in the departments named, and reasonable prices, we know of no place we can more conscientiously recommend to our readers than Mr. Moorhead's.

Constitution Bitters.—A friend of ours who had been complaining of weakness and general debility, hardly able to be around for several weeks, came in the office the other day, with sparkling eyes and ruddy cheeks, a perfect picture of health. Surprised to see so great a change, we asked him what he had been using. He replied: "Constitution Bitters," and added, "I never before knew what fine Bitters were. I had used others, but they only made me feel the worse, causing headache and a bad feeling in my stomach. The Constitution are just the thing, and I would advise all my friends to try them."

Beautiful Workmanship.

Yesterday we had the pleasure of examining a number of marbleized marble mantles at the establishment of W W. Wallace, Nos. 319 and 321 Liberty street. Heretofore Mr. Wallace was engaged in marbleizing slate, but after considerable experience with slate and marble, finding the former greatly inferior in adaptability for fine workmanship, he abandoned its use and is now making a specialty of marbleizing marble. The wisdom of the change is apparent. The slate while not as durable, is dull, heavy and cloudy in appearance, compared with the marble which has a polished, clear and glittering surface of great richness and finish. The specimens on exhibition embrace perfect imitations of the most costly variegated marble, of the greatest variety in design or coloring. Mr. Wallace lately received an order from Washington, D. C., and has prepared a superb set of the marbleized marble mantles which will be shipped in a few days. As this is the first shipment of the kind from west to east, the reverse heretofore being the case, this fact speaks of itself in the highest commendation of the great superiority of his work. He has the largest establishment for this branch of manufacture in the country, and is therefore fully prepared for all demands. All his patterns, of which we examined about twenty varieties, are of the latest design and purchasers instead of sending east, will find at this establishment every inducement in price, quality, style and general superiority, together with the satisfaction of patronizing a home manufacture.
